

Answer Key

---

Active Reading SkillBuilder, page 8

Responses will vary. Possible responses are provided.

Stopping Point in Story: Page 26, "Incredibly, it was another four weeks before they saw each other again."

Prediction: They'll be happy to see each other. They'll speak to each other and become friends.

Stopping Point in Story: Page 26, "And when they finally did meet up again, neither offered a clue to the other that he, or she, had been the object of obsessive thought for weeks."

Prediction: Now they're both embarrassed and won't speak to each other.

Stopping Point in Story: Page 28, "Some months later the bag boy and the girl with the orange bow again crossed paths. . . ."

Prediction: This time, they'll speak to each other.