

Mr. Misenheimer's Garden (page 202) Active Reading SkillBuilder*Making Generalizations

A generalization is a broad statement about a person or a group. In order for a generalization to be valid, it must be based on observations of the words and actions of the person or group. Use the chart below to record what Mr. Misenheimer says and does. Add numbers to each column as needed. Then use your observations to make a generalization about Mr. Misenheimer's attitude toward life and gardening.

What He Says	What He Does
1. He likes people.	1. He creates a beautiful thirteen-acre garden.
Generalization <hr/> <hr/> <hr/>	