

"Rip Van Winkle"

"Rip Van Winkle" is set in the _____ regions from the in the 1700's. Rip Van Winkle is described as a _____ fellow, but his willingness to help others with their _____ while neglecting his own sends his _____ into fits of screaming. One day, to escape her _____, Rip goes hunting with his faithful dog,

There he meets an oddly dressed _____ who ask Rip to help carry his barrel of liquor. Rip obliges and follows them to a _____ where a curiously dressed people were busy playing _____. Rip drinks the flagon with them then falls asleep.

When Rip awakens, he notices that his gun is _____. Wolf is no where to be found. The American _____ has taken place. Rip is confused about the political events around him. When he meets his _____ now married and with a small child named _____, he begins to understand what has happened to him. Instead of one Rip has slept for _____ years. Because his _____ has died, he moves in with his _____ and lives well.

Author: _____ Conflict: _____

Setting: _____ Resolution: _____

Point-of-View: _____ Theme: _____

Real World Connection: _____

Character

Trait
